WHY HE LEFT THE EQUITABLE'S SERVICE. DISAGREEING WITH THE OFFICERS ON THE QUES-TION OF ADOPTING THE FRENCH SYSTEM.

TION OF ADOPTING THE FRENCH SYSTEM.

The Rev. Dr. Stephen H. Tyng, ir., who arrived at Boston from Paris a few days ago by the Parthia, and who is now staving at the New-York Hotel, received many friends yesterday morning at his rooms. They called to congratulate him on his safe return. He went down to his office at No. 83 Liberty-st., in the forenoon, and the stream of congratulation was continued there throughout the day. Dr. Tyng is looking exceedingly well, having completely recovered his health during his sojourn abroad. In speaking to a Tribune reporter of his relations with the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the branch thereof which he established in Paris, he said:

eompletely recovered in nearth ching and the relations with the Equitable Life Assarance Society and the branch thereof which he established in Paris, he said:

"Mr. Alexander, the vice-president of the mpany, said in a published letter that I had resigned my position; that the compensation due me for my unexpired contract and commissions accrued and to accrue were calculated by Mr. Hyde and Mr. Van Berger, one of the directors resident in Paris, and that I was paid. Beyond the fact that the payment was larger than the sum mentioned already in prut—$20,000—and that the dissolution of my relations with the company was entirely friendly, there is not much to add."

"How long had your contract to run?"

"I went to Paris in June. 1881. I had a contract for three years, with an optional renewal for five. I established the branch there and it now occupies an $800,000 building in Rue de l'Opéra. I organized the service, making out all blanks, writing the tracts and doing similar work. I travelled all over France. During the two years I was there about $200,000 of insurance has been secured and about $200,000 of insurance has been secured for secured his s thus to bind the two consumptions of leit-handed connection with the Paris press and have done a great deal for Figure, my object being to do what I could to dissipate the rather wide-spread ignorance there touching Americans and American affairs. Before I leit Paris I had several offers from French papers, but the announcement that I would return and make such connections permanent and professional is entirely premature."

A BARK AND A SHIP GIVEN UP FOR LOST THE FORMER WITH A VALUABLE CARGO, INCLUDING FOUR LOCOMOTIVES.

The Former With a Valuable Cargo, including Four Locomotives.

The American bark Shirley, which sailed from this port for Valparaiso, Cath, in March, and which has not been heard from since, has been given up as lost by her owners, J. H. Winchester & Co. She carried a large and valuable cargo, including four lecemotives valued at about $9,000 each, sent to one of the South American railroads by the Rogers Locomotive Works, of Paterson, N. J. At the office of the Rogers Company, No. 44 Exchange-place, information with regard to the locomotives was refused. The other cargo of the vessel consisted of 176 packages of furniture, 26 cases of machinery, 7 cases of glassware, 63,000 gallons of petroleum, 1,000 cases of spirits of turpentine, 54 pickages of agricultural implements, 105 cases of drugs, 2 cases of pumps, 18 cases of machinery oil, 5 cases of trucks, 3 cases of seeds, 1 case of cards, 1,377 kees of nails, 2 packages of lamp goods, 1 case of plated ware, 30 cases of tacks, 1 plano, 5 cases of manufactured woods, 100 tous of coal, 4,500 staves, 2 cases of electric materials, 100 barrels of sugar, 30 cars, 100 barrels of resin, 19 packages of wooden ware, 130,000 feet of lumber, 120 pounds of manufactured tobaceo, and 9 coils of rop.. The vessel was commanded by Captain W. S. Gibson, who with D. Clarace Hicks, junior member of the firm, and the crew of eleven others, are lost. The vessel was built in Belfast, Me, in 1881, and was of 785 tons burthen.

The German ship Pauline, Captain Schulken, which sailed from this port for Shanghai, November 19, is also given up as lost. She was built in Richmond, Me, in 1857, was of 1,098 tons burden, and was owned by F. Roters, of Bremerhaven. SEEKING TO EVADE CUSTOMS DUTIES.

SEEKING TO EVADE CUSTOMS DUTIES.

Mrs. Jennie Ferris, and Inspectors Russ and Howe at the Custom House yesterday were busy unfoding, ripping, measuring, refolding and repacking several trunks, the owners of which had declared that they contained nothing, dutiable. Mrs. Ferris made the first seizure from two women passengers on the steamship Republic, who wore two handsome velvet robes and almost escaped detection, so well were the articles, which they attempted to sinuggle, distributed and basted on the underelothing. Her careful examination disclosed a large amount of Spanish lace, beaded trumming, Oriental lace, and kid gloves. Inspector Russ, after securing a declaration from Miss E. Lorden, a dressmaker of Chicago, found that two of her trunks were filled with dressmaking materials, etc. There were sliks, satins, Oriental and Spanish laces, bead trimmings, point lace, rich slik underelothing, kid gloves and slik stockings by the dozen pairs, pearl buckles, pocket-handkerchiefs and elegant robes. A friend who came to meet her was not allowed to leave the pier until she took from under her outer clothing an elegant velvet robe belonging to Miss Lorden. Inspector Howe seized two trunks filled with dress goods and other materials from Miss Thornton, who had declared that she bad nothing dutiable. It is not usual for the inspectors to expose the soiled clothing of women on the pier, but Mr. Howe accidently discovered basted on one o the articles of underwear a lot of elegant trimmings. Further search disclosed that on nearly every piece of soiled dently discovered basted on one o the articles of underwear a lot of clegaut trimmings. Further search disclosed that on nearly every piece of soiled clothing was basted laces, buckles, trimmings, handkerchiefs, etc. These, too, were taken to the Custom House for appraisal, and to-day the owners will be told that unless they pay the duties and penalties the goods will be sold at auction. The total value of the seized goods was about $5,000.

IS IT AN INTELLIGENCE OFFICE!

IS IT AN INTELLIGENCE OFFICE?

"The Manhattan Agency," at No. 733 Broadway, advertises to find employment for book-keepers, clerks, salesmen, coachmen, cooks and others. Several persons have called on Mayor's Marshal MoDermott, and stated that they had paid $2 to Samnel Bull, the manager of the consern, who agreed to procure them employment or have an advertisement inserted in one of the principal daily newspapers soliciting such semployment. Mr. McDermott directed Buil to appear before the Mayor and show cause why he should not take out a license. Bull sent to the Mayor a letter, stating that he keeps a bureau for information, and not an intelligence office. He furnishes employers with employés and receives money from the latter for such service. The same thing, he declares, is done by the Young Men's Christian Association, the Male Teachers' Association and other bodies, and they are not charged with being intelligence offices. The Mayor has directed the Corporation Attorney to bring suit against Bull to recover a penalty of $50 for not taking out a license for keeping an intelligence office, and, if necessary, to carry the case to the Court of Appeals in order to have the status of an intelligence office defined.

COMPETITION IN MATCHES.

EFFECT OF THE REMOVAL OF THE TAX. WHAT THE PRICES ARE-FOREIGN MATCHES IN

THE AMERICAN MARKET.

The great match combination has not been broken," said Joseph Swift, New-York manager of the Diamond Maten Company, vesterday, "simply because there was no combination. Ours is one concern. The Pennsylvania Railroad may not be called a combination because it was a short road at one time and has on various occasions absorbed certain additions and is now bigger than it was. No stock holder who has a complaint can tear up his proportion of the rails and have them carried away. And so it is with the Diamond Match Company. It is one concern, and the different elements which have gone to make it up are now part and parcet of it. No one of them has a distinct existence. When the so-called combination breaks up it will be when the company is bankrupt."

"Are the recent reductions in the price of matches to be traced to the competition of new factories starting throughout the country, as has been stated?"

"Meaning since the repeal of the tax on July 1, 1 suppose. Now there is a general misapprehension concerning our competition while the tax was current. It was believed that we received nausual discounts because of buying large quantities of stamps and were accorded extraordinary time for payment. The law is open to anybody to read. It declared that any one buying $500 of stamps at one time should receive 10 per cent discount. When we purchased $10,000 of stamps in one day we received no more. Sixty days were allowed for payment because matches were taxen by the Government more than any other article in daily use, Evidently this was a great boon to small dealers, who could turn over their stock several times before paying for the stamps on the first lot. In our larger factories and with our larger stock, our goods would not reach the market before three months."

"How is it then, that you are suffering from the old; rrangements case of matches from the would not bother with it. Moreover, he had to do it under Governmental inspection, and this added to the outlay. Now fore-gn matches, paying the sa ditiots."

What has your reduction been?"
The match which we used to sell at $2.50 per gross we now quote at 75 cents. The tax was $1.30. That is the cheapest parlor match. The cheapest sulphur match sells now at 50 cents per gross."

The foreign matches to which Mr. Swift refers are sulphur matches and are said to be free from objectionable smell. They are sold at 50 to 65 cents a gross. The safety matches are quoted at about the same price as the domestic parlor match.

THE OLLAGAWALLAS FEASTING.

DEMOCRATIC LOVE FEAST AT "GABE " CASES. A DEMOCRATIC LOVE FEAST AT "GABE" CASES.

Two bedanbed and beer angied "braves" paraded before a small tent at the entrance of "Gabe" Case's well-known clam-base grounds yesterday afternoon. Beneath the trees that grow close to the roadway lables had been arranged in a periest square. In the centre of the square a huge nre was borning, and on it was heaped an inexhaustble supply of clams. The American flag and streamers floated from every available point. The occasion was the annual clam-bake of the "Ollayawallas," or a love-feast of the Democrasy. At a given signal from the chief of the tribe Colonel J. J. Mooney, the band struck up "The Wearing of the Green," to which four hundred esturdy men marched to the feast and without any ceremony began to ravage the helpless brailes.

to which four hundred sturdy men marched to the feast and without any ceremony began to ravage the helpless brailes. On tables near the fire rested tubs of ice trom, which protruded 400 quart bottles of champagne. No one was allowed to drink water. Harmony reigned surreme. Tammady extended the clive branch of peace once more, and it was eagerly grasped by the Coenty Democracy. Irving Hall fraternized with the members of O'Brien's inappendent organization and the latter volunteered to withdraw itsel legates from the coming convention at Buffalo. "Jem" Mace and "Harry" Hill were among the "braves," and even they were overwhelmed by the atmosphere of peace and haromny and retrained from any exhibition of their puglistic proclivities.

After all had succumbed to the cup that both intoxicates and cheers, oud calls were made. for Mr. Mooney. Mr. Mooney rose and in a dignified manner bade the "braves" a hearty welcome to the teast, "To-day" said he, "all is peace. Members of rival political associations are assembled bere as brothers. But beware of to-merrow"—and here Mr. Mooney lowered his voice—"for on that day we shall wage a bloody war." He sat down aimid repeated demonstrations of applause. The rest of the evening was devoted to instrumental and vocal music. Among the "braves" present were Judge Charles H. Truax, Justices Herrman and Power. Commissioners Mitchell, Nichols, Mathews, Canifichi and Purroy, Shepherd Knapp, ex-assemblyman Maurice B. Flynn, Coroner Levy, Sentors Daly Koch, and Fitzgerald, Aldermen Dury, and Kenney, G. K. "Why, good morning, Judge Meares, I am very glad to see you." was the salutation which a reilglad to see you." was the saintation which a well-dressed young man yesterday morning addressed to a man of pleasant appearance and middle age, who was looking in a window in Broadway near Twenty-sixth-st. The senior of the two had been waking up the street quite rapidly until he noticed the clock is front of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, when his gait slackened, and his manner changed. Assuming the walk of a countryman and exhibiting the circusty of a strauger in the city within three minutes he was addressed by his young friend.

"Good morning," he reclied, smiling graciously and grasping cordually the hand extended to him, "I am glad to meet you. How is your father?"

The young man had not looked for a recognition on the part of the other, and suddenly straightening up, he said, "Am I mistaken? Is this not Judge Meares of St. Louis?"

"No, I think not," was the unsatisfactory reply. "Pardon me," continued the young man, "but I was reminded of my father's friend, Judge Meares of St. Louis. May I ask your name?".

Drawing himself up to his natural position and, adjusting his hat as it had previously been worn the counterpart of Judge Meares spoke in those forcible tones so familiar to New-York audiences: "I am not Judge Meares of St. Louis, but I am Dr. Howard Crosby of New —" but before he could finish the sentence the young man had darted away as if propelled by an unseen power.

Dr. Crosby had been trying a little experiment to learn if Broadway was lear of couldence men.,"

A BOY'S ADVENTURES AT SEA.

A lad of sixteen sat on the steps of the Police Headquarters nearly all the afternoon yesterday. He had cold a story to Superintendent Walling, and was waiting for a reply to a telegram which had been sent to San Francisco. To a RIBUNE reporter the boy repeated his story, which is briefly as follows: His name is William Keene, and his father is Captain Keene, at present a music-dealer, at Market and Third sts., San Francisco. The boy was desirous of becoming a sea captain, and his father tamking that one voyage would effectually cure him of his haukering after the sea, secured passage for him on a Pacific steamer bound for Livernool, about six months ago. The lad teceivel sinflicient experience on his trip around Cape Hotn. The second mate abused him shamefully, and threw another boy of his age overboard, who was drowned. The sip was the Snow and Burgess. Arriving in Liverpool "Willie" sought the protection and advice of the American Consul. He was anxious to return home, and passage was secured for him on a New-York steamship. Just before it salled the boarding-house where he was staying caught fire and his ciothes were destroyed. He was hoping that his father would send a telegraphic money-order so that he might procure ciothes and a tiexet to San Francisco.

HELEN LEONARD AGAIN IN THE TOMBS.

Helen Leonard, who shot the wife of Clarence H. Smith, on June 15 last, at No. 42 East Nineteenthst., and who was admit 1 to bail in the sum of $2,500 by Judge Lawrence, was surrendered to the Court of General Sessions yesterday by one of her suretues, her annt, Miss Louisa Leonard, of No. 117 East Twelfth-st., who was on the bond to the amount of $1,000. The other surety, at $1,500, is W. D. Munson, of No. 158 Pearlest. Miss Louisa Leonard declined to state her reason for withdrawing from the bond. She said in court toat she could get along with Miss Helen no longer, turblying that she had had considerable trouble with her. It was thought that the presoner's trouble had affected her conduct more or less. Miss fielen appeared calm and collected, and said pleasantly that she could not imagine what had induced her annt to take this action. Miss Louisa Leonard received her $1,000 from the City Chamberlain, and Miss Helen was taken to the Tombs, where she greeted Warden Finn with the words: "Well, Warden, I am here again." She asked in court that her case might be put on the calendar for as early a date as possible. HELEN LEONARD AGAIN IN THE TOMBS.

DEATH FROM AN OVERDOSE OF MORPHINE.

Joseph W. Pilkington, ir., of Sedalia, Mo., has been a student in the Bellevue Medical College for two years, being a member of the present senior class. He lived at No. 398 Second-ave. On Sunday and Monday he complained of a sick headache. As he did not leave his room at the usual hour yesterday morning his landiady, Mrs. James Moore, rapped on his door and, receiving no response, opened it. The young man was lying in bed, but as he did not answer when she spoke to him, she became alarmed and summened Dr. John Devlin, who discovered that the student had taken an overdose of morphine. Another physician was at once called, and later Professor dryant, of Bellevue, but all efforts to restore the young man to consciousness were fruit less and at 1 o'clock he died. Dr. Devlin said in the afternoon that he must have taken three or four grains of morphine, equal to more than 300 drops of laudanum. Mrs. Moore spoke highly of her lodger, who, so far as she knew, had no reason for committing suicide. She added that she had heard him boast that he could take a large dose of morphine without injury to himself. Aletter was found in his pocket from Sedalia, from which the signature had been torn, but evidently written by a young lady. It was addressed to "My Dear Joe," and in it the writer urges him to "hurry up and make a success in life."

Dr. M. J. B. Messemer, Coroner Merkle's deputy, made an examination of the body and the room in which the death occurred, and took Mrs. Moore's statement. He concluded that it was a case of poisoning by mistake, as no motive for suicide could be discovered, and he gave a permit for the removal of the body.

THE WONDERFUL

Restoring and renovating properties of Hood's Sarsaparilla, combined with its power to build up the system, eradicate scrofula, and cleanse the blood of all humors, make it the best family medicine that can be devised, and as a protection from discases that originate in changes of the seasons, of climate and of life, it cannot be excelled. If you are suffering from scrofula, sait rheam, or any obnoxious humor, Hood's Sarsapartila will bring you relief. Try it and be convinced.

My Daughter

Had scarlet fever in its worst form; it left her with a running sore on her left ear, the discharge being very offensive: also a difficulty of breathing through her nose, which disturbed her sleeping. We used various medicines, but nothing seemed to hit her case. Hood's Sarsaparilla improved her appetite at once; stopped the offensive discharge; healed the re, and she breathed without difficulty.-ALBERT E. LIBBT,
